Description

A pair of Luigi Filippo armchairs in walnut dating from the mid-19th century, made in Italy. These armchairs are distinguished by their foliage carvings and Rocaille-style elements, which enhance their structure. The backrest, armrests, and seat are upholstered. The curved legs contribute to the overall harmony of the design, typical of the Louis Philippe period. The walnut finish lends a warm, natural tone. Product condition: Due to its age and wear, this item requires restoration and refinishing. We strive to present the actual condition of the piece as fully as possible through the photos. If certain details are not clear from the photos, the information provided in the description takes precedence.
