Description

Refined pair of gilded bronze and Sèvres porcelain vases. The cobalt blue porcelain is embellished with gold trim and painted decorations, enhancing their elegance. The vases are distinguished by a very rare typology, characterized by a square base and an amphora shape, with handles in the shape of masks, the latter elements typical of the style of the period. Scenes of birds in trees are depicted on both sides of the vases, completing the ensemble. This pair of vases is an example of great taste and elegance, capable of adding a touch of class to any setting. French manufacture from the Charles X period, around the first half of the 19th century (ca. 1830). Dimensions: H x W68 x 22cm
