Description

Directoire-style sideboard in walnut-stained poplar, dating from the early 19th century, from Italy. The classic design of the period is reflected in the paneled doors that make up the front, combining aesthetics and functionality. The truncated pyramid-shaped legs provide stability and a subtle elegance typical of the Directoire style. The interior is made of fir, offering sturdiness and durability, while the walnut-stained poplar exterior enriches the piece with a warm and inviting tone. A posthumous modification was made to the back panel, a detail that attests to the piece's historical evolution. Product condition: Due to its age and wear, this item requires restoration and refinishing. We strive to present the actual condition of the piece as fully as possible through
