Description

A lovely gouache on vellum. A scattering of flowers. A very delicate drawing featuring an abundance of flowers--old-fashioned roses, primroses, morning glories, etc.--along with foliage. The vellum is in very good condition, with slight beige marks around the edges of the drawing, likely due to the age of the medium or its exposure. France, mid-19th century. The drawing is mounted on a burgundy-colored Marie Louise board. It is sold with or without the board.
