Description

A graceful Art Nouveau wall mirror crafted in oak with gilded inlay, France, circa 1915. The frame's flowing silhouette and stylized carved motifs embody the organic elegance of the period, while the arched upper corners and curved lower feet lend a subtle architectural rhythm. The linear gilded accents punctuate the warm oak grain, creating a refined interplay between geometry and nature; hallmarks of French Art Nouveau craftsmanship.

The mirror's generous proportions and sculptural presence make it ideal for a hallway, salon, or dressing area, where it can serve as both a functional piece and a decorative focal point.
