Description

A 750 white gold (18-karat) ring with a modern geometric design, set with diamonds, a 1.74-carat pink tourmaline, and a 0.94-carat blue topaz. The asymmetrical composition highlights the interplay between two pops of color: the intense pink tourmaline catches the eye, while the transparent, soft blue topaz adds freshness and lightness. Small diamonds elegantly frame the shapes, emphasize the architectural lines, and lend the ring a refined sparkle. This expressive piece of jewelry is ideal for those seeking a decidedly modern design. Manufacturer's hallmark. Tested and approved by the Lithuanian Assay Office.
