Description

COD- 01252A refined Spanish portrait from the second half of the 17th century. This oil on canvas depicts King Charles II of Spain, wearing ceremonial armor and the collar of the Order of the Golden Fleece, Europe's highest and most coveted honor. The work reflects the official iconography developed at the Madrid court, drawing inspiration from the famous models of court painter Juan Carreño de Miranda (1614-1685). The young Habsburg monarch is depicted with long, flowing hair, splendid armor, and the precious knightly collar, culminating in a pendant depicting the legendary Golden Fleece. The painting stands out for its remarkable execution, evident in the delicate modeling of the complexion, the soft rendering of the hair, and the convincing depiction of the armor's metallic highlights. The dark background helps to highlight the figure, accentuating its solemn and representative character. The painting is housed in an elegant Baroque-style wooden frame, not contemporary, which effectively enhances the overall decorative effect. This painting holds considerable historical and collectible appeal, ideal for decorating classical settings, professional studios, or collections dedicated to European portraiture. The recognizable iconography of the Habsburg monarch makes it a work of certain interest for collectors of Baroque paintings and the history of the Spanish monarchy. The painting has already been restored with relining, replacement of the stretcher, and restoration of color in small areas. Overall, it is in good condition. Internal dimensions: H 67 W 56 cm. As each of our products it will be accompanied by a certificate of authenticity and guarantee with photographic documentation.
