Description

Modernist desk lamp in chrome-plated steel and lacquered metal - West Germany, circa 1970. An elegant desk lamp with a distinctly modernist design, crafted from chrome-plated steel and lacquered metal in a harmonious contrast of satin and ivory finishes. Its clean lines, typical of German designs from the late 1960s and early 1970s, prioritize functionality without ever sacrificing elegance. The cylindrical shade, which can be adjusted using a sturdy locking knob, allows for precise lighting control. Its light-colored interior diffuses a soft yet effective glow, ideal for a desk, a library, or a reading area. The double-ring base, with its striking graphic design, gives this lamp a light and perfectly balanced silhouette. With its high-quality craftsmanship and timeless design, this lamp is part of the great tradition of German industrial design. Although no markings currently allow for definitive attribution, its style evokes the work of major West German lighting manufacturers such as Hillebrand, Staff Leuchten or Kaiser Leuchten, which are highly sought after by collectors of vintage furniture and 20th-century design. A decorative and functional piece that will naturally find its place in a contemporary interior, an architect's office, or a Mid-Century setting.
