Description

Provençal Louis XV glass cabinet in walnut, 18th century Provençal glass cabinet in solid walnut, Louis XV style, 18th century. This charming display cabinet, emblematic of antique Provençal furniture, opens with an elegant curved glass door and features two glass-paned sides that showcase glassware, earthenware, porcelain, or collectibles. The ornate pediment is richly carved with a musical trophy, surrounded by finely executed flowers and foliage. The particularly elegant openwork lower rail, along with the curved, scroll-style legs, attest to the craftsmanship of 18th-century Provençal master cabinetmakers. The display cabinet has retained its original glass, lock, and key. Its beautiful original patina and the quality of its carving make it a rare and sought-after decorative piece. A piece
