Description

Walnut coffee table, 18th-century Directoire period. A charming solid walnut coffee table from the Directoire period, late 18th century. It features a front drawer with a lock and rests on four tapered legs with square cross-sections, characteristic of this period. Its top, crafted from wide walnut planks, features a beautiful antique patina that highlights the wood's natural grain. Thanks to its harmonious proportions, this table can be placed in the center of a room, but can also serve as a writing desk, console table, or side table. A simple and elegant piece of furniture, representative of the Directoire period, preserved in beautiful original condition with a warm patina. Dimensions: Height: 72 cm Width: 85 cm Depth: 62 cm
