Description

Unique Brazilian Rustic Sideboard - 1950sA stunning rustic sideboard brought back from Brazil in the 1950s, showcasing authentic craftsmanship that blends Portuguese colonial influences with local traditions. Its construction using various types of wood gives it a rich variety of hues and textures, while its simple, sturdy silhouette evokes South American country furniture.The front features two solid-panel doors mounted on sturdy, exposed wrought-iron hinges, accentuating its rustic character. The piece rests on a recessed, molded base and is topped with a thick, overhanging top with a dark brown finish, creating an elegant contrast with the warm tones of the wood.The interior offers generous storage space, ideal for a dining room, kitchen, entryway, or an interior decorated in a country house,
