

Louis XVI Coffee Table, Polylobed Shape, 18th Century

1 850 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Mahogany

Diameter : 48 cm

Height : 73,5 cm

Description

Louis XVI-style side table / hot-water bottle table in mahogany, with a polylobed top. Elegant Louis XVI-style side table, crafted from mahogany and flamed mahogany, featuring a rare and refined polylobed shape characteristic of high-quality pieces inspired by the neoclassical taste of the late 18th century. The top is topped with a carefully inlaid veined white marble slab, framed by a finely cut openwork brass rail that adds a touch of distinction while protecting the top. The delicacy of this rail harmoniously highlights the piece's dynamic contours. The low-profile base perfectly follows the poly-lobed line of the tabletop. On the front, it features a central drawer adorned with an elegant brass knob. This drawer, designed to hold small everyday items, is discreetly integrated into the overall design,

Dealer

Galerie Leroy

Antiquaire Généraliste Mobiliers du XVIIIe , XIXe et Objets d'Art

Mobile : 06 46 43 45 93

Remiremont 88200

maintaining the balance of proportions. The table rests on four tapered, faceted legs--typical of the Louis XVI style--topped with understated brass feet. The legs are connected by a polylobed crossbar, which exactly mirrors the design of the top tabletop and provides additional display space while reinforcing the stability of the entire piece. The understated lines, the quality of the mahogany, the elegance of the marble, and the delicate brass trim lend this table a great decorative refinement. Its compact size allows it to fit naturally into a living room, a library, a boudoir, or as a side table next to an armchair. This table perfectly exemplifies the Louis XVI aesthetic, where geometric precision is combined with elegant proportions and meticulous craftsmanship. Period: late 19th-early 20th century, in the Louis XVI style. Materials: solid mahogany and mahogany veneer, veined white marble, brass rail and feet. Condition: in very fine condition, with a beautiful patina on the wood and marble showing only slight signs of wear consistent with its age. A charming, high-quality side table that combines elegance, functionality, and refinement--ideal for complementing a classic or contemporary interior.