Description

An elegant, contemporary ring crafted from gold-plated 925 sterling silver, enhanced by a magnificent natural cushion-cut citrine with warm golden hues. Weighing 3.90 carats, the center stone generously captures the light and reveals a luminous sparkle, delicately accented by four white topazes set at the corners of the setting. The finely crafted band features an elegant twisted design that adds depth and sophistication to the overall look. The combination of gold-plated silver, the sunny warmth of the citrine, and the subtle sparkle of the topazes lends this creation a timeless elegance. Both luminous and refined, this ring will complement both everyday outfits and more formal occasions. A contemporary ring with a delicate design, where light and color come together with elegance.
