Description

Large seascape by Hippolyte-Camille DELPY, a rare theme in his work and highly sought after by collectors. Painted in Holland, this impressionist-style composition presents sailboats at sea, with mills in the background. It is believed to be the painting "Environs de Dordrecht" sold on May 26, 1884 under number 44 during a sale of DELPY's paintings (the subject and dimensions correspond perfectly - see last photos). BIOGRAPHY: A student of Charles-François DAUBIGNY from 1855, DELPY's pictorial style was strongly influenced by the master of the Barbizon school. DELPY traveled regularly with the DAUBIGNY family during his apprenticeship, meeting COROT who encouraged him. From 1870, he worked mainly in La Ville D'Avray and Auvers-sur-Oise. He became friends with Camille PISSARRO and Paul CÉZANNE. He exhibited at the Salon on numerous occasions, receiving several awards. In 1889, he received an honorable mention at the Universal Exhibition. The Parisian gallery owner Georges PETIT organized several solo exhibitions for him. His works are present in museums around the world: Phoenix art museum, Louviers Museum, Béziers Museum... He obviously benefits from high quotations, up to 30,000 euros in public sales, regularly between 10,000 and 15,000 euros for his best subjects. DELPY seascapes are very rarely found on the art market, this is an opportunity not to be missed !! WARNING: There are a very large number of fake DELPYs on the market, both fake signatures added to 19th century landscapes and works by his son Henry-Jacques DELPY sold as being by his hand !! Oil on canvas 60 x 73 cms (With frame, some restored accidents, approximately 72 x 85 cms) Very nice presentation, on its original canvas, work recently cleaned and clean, note a restoration in the sky and some repainting. Stamp of the signature lower right "H.C DELPY". Photos taken in natural light. AUTHENTICITY GUARANTEED - SALE WITH INVOICE. KINDLY CHECK OUR OTHER PAINTINGS AND DRAWINGS FOR SALE !
