

PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

A Superb Louis XV Desk By Paul Sormani, Made Of Rosewood, Circa 1867

13 000 EUR

Signature : Paul SORMANI

Period : 19th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Wood marquetry

Length : 154

Width : 86

Height : 76

Description

Paul SORMANI - Louis XV desk in rosewood, ca. 1867. Dimensions: 154 x 86 cm, height: 76 cm. In perfect condition. With its original leather upholstery.. Paul SORMANI (1817-1877) was an Italian-born cabinetmaker based in Paris, known for his Louis XV- and Louis XVI-style furniture. He opened his first workshop in 1847 at 7 Cimetière Saint-Nicolas, then moved in 1854 to 114 Rue du Temple, and finally in 1867 to 10 Rue Charlot. His creations were highly successful, particularly with Empress Eugénie, wife of Napoleon III, who chose his furniture to furnish her residences. His work, admired by the Parisian bourgeoisie, is distinguished by meticulous marquetry and finely chiseled, gilded bronze ornamentation. This rosewood desk reflects the full extent of his craftsmanship,

Dealer

PES Antiquités

Antiquités

Mobile : 0033682183857

Saint-Sauveur 70300

featuring high-quality finishes and a design faithful to the styles of the era.