Description

SPECC568 - A highly prized antique mirror in the Neoclassical style. It features a vertical rectangular shape with an arched top. The mirror has feet for freestanding use but can also be hung on a wall. The frame is finely carved from gilded wood with floral motifs: acanthus leaves, flowers, and vine tendrils. The upper section features a large central ornament in the shape of a vase with scrollwork on the sides and a decoration of leaves and berries along the arch. On either side of the frame is a continuous leaf motif with flowers in relief. The lower section features an openwork pattern with floral elements and a decorative central coat of arms. The legs are richly decorated with scrolls and leaf motifs. The frame displays an antique patina, a sign of authenticity and natural aging. Dated to the 18th century. Dimensions: L
