Description

A double bed designed by Luigi Massoni for Poltrona Frau in the 1970s, featuring a solid wooden frame that is fully upholstered and covered in high-quality leather. The design reflects the elegant and functional style typical of the era, with soft lines and a slightly curved headboard. The leather upholstery gives the bed a distinctive look with great visual impact. There are some minor signs of wear on the leather, typical of the material's natural aging, adding a touch of authenticity and history to the piece. This bed is ideal for those seeking a modern classic that combines comfort and iconic design. MOMOMO0311506
