750 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Oil painting

Description

This painting is a portrait of a gentleman dating from the late 18th century (late 18th-century / Neoclassical period) attributed to the Italian school of painting. A man of noble lineage is depicted in half-length, in a three-quarter view, within a faux oval frame. He wears a typical high-collared, havana-brown jacket over a striking stiff white collar and waistcoat, with the powdered hairstyle typical of the era. Technique: Oil on canvas. Original dimensions: Approximately 70 cm high by 60 cm wide
