Description

An elegant and imposing table or living room lamp from the second half of the 20th century, depicting a lively workshop scene. This is a beautiful decorative reproduction based on the famous sculpture "Le Travail" (or "Le Forgeron et son fils") by the French sculptor Auguste Moreau. The sculpture depicts a craftsman passing on his expertise to a young apprentice, a classic theme cherished during the Art Nouveau period. The figure is made of heavy white composite resin (imitating alabaster or biscuit), featuring a beautiful matte finish and well-defined details. Circular molded base made of blackened wood. Electrification: Original period wiring in working condition (cable with switch). Lampshade: Sold with its conical beige fabric lampshade edged with braid (shows slight
