

13th-century German Proto-stoneware Pitcher

400 EUR

Period : Before 16th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Sandstone

Description

Probably originating from the Rhine Valley, this elegant medieval pitcher bears witness to the early days of stoneware production in Germany and to the already well-established styles that would endure until the end of the 15th century. In very good condition for its age, with a visible chip at the base and a few chips on the rim of the neck (the piece was likely excavated). Dimensions: Height: 23 cm
