Description

An exceptionally beautiful salon cabinet France. 1925-1930 Fine wood veneer (rosewood) with ebonized decorative moldings Bronze door fittings and decorative trim Three-door design; the central section features internal sliding trays (English drawers) in the upper third. This piece--suitable for a salon or an office--is distinguished by exceptional craftsmanship and meticulous attention to high-quality detail. The design bears a striking resemblance to works by "Maison Dominique" (founded in 1922 by André Domin and Marcel Genevrière). With its balanced proportions--measuring 169 cm in length and just 145 cm in height--this Art Deco piece serves as a stunning addition to any room. The cabinet is in excellent restored condition, featuring a piano-lacquer finish. Width: approx. 169
