Description

A mahogany sideboard from the first half of the 20th century, featuring an upper section with five doors with beveled glass, embellished with elegant brass trim. The side posts are embellished with geometric Greek fret patterns inlaid in maple, adding a touch of refinement to the overall design. The curved top features an inlaid marble panel that extends onto the front of the upper section, lending continuity and harmony to the structure. Beneath the top, the base section includes four drawers, while the lower section features a pair of double doors, offering ample storage space. The flush vents, handles, and brass moldings blend seamlessly with the design, while the fir and beech interior ensures sturdiness and durability.
