Description

Gabriel DAUCHOT (1927-2005)Oil on canvas, 20x45 cm, "The Clarinet" Circa 1960Signed lower rightA student at the École des Beaux-Arts in Paris, then under Emile Othon Friesz and Yves Brayer at the Grande Chaumière, Gabriel Dauchot began his career at a very young age in 1942 at the Salon des Moins de 30 Ans, then at the Salon d'Automne, and regularly held solo exhibitions starting in 1945 in Paris, Switzerland, and the United States... He was unanimously praised by critics for his originality.He painted thickly applied, acrobatic figures, landscapes, and compositions in a robust expressionist style often tinged with humor. He created a highly personal and poetic world, evident in this "portrait" of a clarinet in a field. Bibliography: Benezit, Schurr... Black wooden frame
