Description

Light up your space with a timeless work of art. By purchasing "Agave"--this magnificent ruby-red blown-glass chandelier with pure gold edges crafted in the ancient furnaces of Murano (Venice)--you'll bring home a piece of history and the excellence of the Italian glassmaking tradition. Its extraordinary shape--resembling a large "agave" plant with its characteristic spiny-edged leaves--immediately captures the eye. The unusual color makes it even more precious, and its size lends it a majestic presence. With its three tiers of lights--6+12+24--pointing upward, featuring ribbed work and crimped cups, it combines grandeur with unparalleled luminosity (h. 300 cm, diam. 170, Venice 1930).
