Description

Louis XV-style bean-shaped desk in marquetry and gilded bronze An elegant Louis XV-style bean-shaped desk, crafted from precious wood with marquetry and richly adorned with chiseled and gilded bronze. This refined piece stands out for its elegant oval top in veined pink marble, framed by an openwork bronze railing, characteristic of neoclassical-inspired furniture. The band, finely inlaid with fillets and medallions, is embellished with a painted scene of a lively landscape, adding an artistic and exquisite touch to the piece. The bronze moldings, frames, and feet highlight the quality of the cabinetmaking. The table features one drawer at the front, offering practical use while maintaining perfect symmetry. It rests on four slightly curved legs, finished with gilded bronze.
