Empire Restoration-era mahogany weekly organizer with marble top
Elegant Empire Restoration-era mahogany weekly organizer, featuring seven drawers on the front. This piece, with its simple and balanced lines, is topped with a Sainte-Anne gray marble top, adding a touch of refinement and great practicality. The drawer fronts, crafted from flamed mahogany, feature beautiful grain patterns enhanced by their original warm patina. The straight side panels harmoniously frame the piece, while the cabinet rests on four claw feet in patinated bronze, typical of the Empire Restoration period. The oak-framed drawers slide smoothly and offer ample storage space. The locks are present, with their original keyholes. With its elegant proportions and functionality, this weekly planner will fit equally
