Description

Louis XV-style secretary desk with a drop-leaf top, circa 1900. An elegant secretary desk with a drop-leaf top, crafted from walnut and featuring marquetry, in the Louis XV style, dating from the early 20th century. Its gracefully curved lines, characterized by great simplicity, are highlighted by rich floral marquetry in various woods that adorns the fronts and the top drawer. The drop-leaf reveals an interior consisting of a shelf, four small drawers, and a spacious work surface, making this a piece of furniture that is as practical as it is refined. The quality of the wood, the delicacy of the floral decorations, and the harmony of the proportions attest to exceptionally meticulous cabinetmaking. The piece opens with a drawer in the upper section, a large drop-down panel serving as a writing desk, and two doors in
