Description

Christofle Art Deco sugar bowl in silver-plated metal and wood, early 20th century. Created by the French silversmithing workshops of Christofle during the Art Deco period (1910-1939) in the early 20th century, this sugar bowl is a true little masterpiece of French tableware. Every aspect of this sugar bowl is the result of Christofle's unique craftsmanship: meticulous and intricate, its quintessentially Art Deco geometric forms are timeless and chic. Its silver-plated metal gleams with timeless elegance, complemented by the wooden palmette motifs on its handles. The most beautiful feature of this sugar bowl is the Art Deco floral scene on the body of the vessel, hand-engraved. Its pure geometry and floral essence are characteristic of this period, blending human-inspired geometry with the beauty of
