Louis XVI-style backgammon table
The removable tabletop is covered in brown leather on one side, which can be used as a writing surface, and green felt on the other, allowing the backgammon table to double as a card table. Underneath this top is another smaller, removable top designed for checkers and chess, respectively. Removing this second top reveals a backgammon set, embellished with bone inlays. One drawer on each side. It rests on four tapered legs topped with bronze feet. The table comes with a set of game pieces and the chess set. Slight signs of wear on the leather. 20th century
