preserving their ancient spirit intact. However, it is important to note that the works require cleaning, as they all retain their original patina. Currently, a layer of soot covers the original vivid colors, protecting them like a treasure chest over time. Therefore, a light conservative restoration would allow these canvases to shine once again as they did originally. In addition, the photos were taken specifically outdoors to highlight the paint's texture and the richness of the brushwork. As a result, the buyer can appreciate the quality of the pigment under natural light.

Technical Details and Period Frames Regarding dimensions, the works measure 112 x 93 cm including the frame, while the canvas alone measures 98 x 78 cm. Above all, the splendid original period frames--lacquered in sage green with gold trim--deserve special attention, as they perfectly enhance the subject. In short, this is a complete set ready to add prestige to a high-end residence. Finally, we guarantee flawless logistics management.
