Description

A Louis XVI-style walnut center desk dating from the late 19th century. It rests on four tapered, fluted legs, topped with blocks also decorated with fluting. The front features two large drawers with lock slots and handles. The top is covered with antique cognac-colored leather with a lattice pattern, displaying a beautiful patina and visible signs of wear, intentionally preserved in its original condition. The sides are carefully molded, allowing this desk to be displayed in the center of a room. Beautifully crafted cabinetry and particularly pleasing proportions. Delivery within Metropolitan France: EUR150. Contact us for more information.
