Description

A single bed made of solid cherry wood, dating from the early 19th century, in the Directoire style that foreshadowed the Empire period. It features two high headboards with solid, molded panels, framed by straight posts topped with large turned balls. The piece is distinguished by its understated and balanced design, characteristic of this period. The cherry wood has a beautiful, warm, and nuanced antique patina that particularly highlights the wood's natural grain. The bed can be completely disassembled and rests on four straight posts. Period: early 19th century Style: Directoire / early Empire Material: solid cherry wood Dimensions: Length: 204 cm Width: 98 cm Maximum height: 142 cm In good overall condition with signs of wear and use consistent with its age.
