

19th-century Forced-ball Flintlock Pistol Decorated With The Head Of Bacchus

350 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Metal

Description

Pocket or travel percussion pistol, retractable trigger, water-drop-shaped stock carved from walnut, topped with a metal cap adorned with a medallion in relief depicting Bacchus. A pistol for a person of means, decorated on all sides and marked with the owner's initials in two cartouches on either side of the grip. Fires without any problems; in good overall condition, though there are a few spots of corrosion at the muzzle. 19 cm long, muzzle diameter 1 cm

Dealer

Antiquités Thierry Maillot

Antic dealer

Mobile : 0674442284

703 chemin des chartreux

Montbonnot-Saint-Martin 38330