Description

An elegant Qashqai kilim from Iran, traditionally woven using the wool-on-wool technique. The weave, which is particularly fine, tight, and precise, attests to the remarkable craftsmanship of the Qashqai weavers. The perfectly balanced composition features a geometric vocabulary characteristic of these nomadic pieces, with a beautiful freedom in the rhythm and arrangement of the motifs. The central field features six rows of three polychrome scorpions--there's no need to fear them; their presence is meant to offer protection! The color palette is particularly appealing. One will especially appreciate the depth of the central purple field--a rich, warm hue--around which the various shades of the design come to life. This color selection lends the piece a strong presence and harmony. A highly
