Description

A beautiful and rare carved walnut frame, 17th-century Burgundian school, with rich decoration: the top features a mascarón, the sides are decorated with grimacing faunesses with bare breasts, the lower section is decorated with the paws of fantastical animals. A rare piece with a lovely patina, showing only minor imperfections and signs of age. It bears an engraved date: "June 1933 Lefevre," as this frame originally held an old wedding photo with that date. As seen, it measures 14.5 by 22.
