Description

Elegant, adjustable Art Nouveau desk lamp from Muller Frères Lunéville, a renowned French art glass manufacturer active in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. The lamp rests on a cast metal base richly adorned with plant motifs in the characteristic Art Nouveau style. Its adjustable arm allows you to direct the light and adjust the height of the lampshade as needed. It is fitted with its original art glass shade signed by Muller Frères Lunéville, featuring warm amber and caramel hues enhanced by a darker speckled and marbled pattern. The flared tulip shape and the transparency of the glass provide beautiful light diffusion. When turned on, the lamp produces a soft, warm light that particularly highlights the glass's hues. The lamp has been professionally rewired with a new fabric-covered power cord
