Description

Italian Murano glass lamp, circa 1960 -- 600 EUR
An elegant Italian lamp from the 1960s, this piece captivates with the purity of its lines and the quality of its materials. Its Murano glass stem, in an intense, almost mineral blue, complements a satin-finished metal base and a large opaline glass shade, offering a remarkable balance between formal sophistication and soft light. With its clean lines and sculptural presence, this lamp evokes the excellence of postwar Italian design, where the pursuit of light merges with that of form. Both a functional object and a true decorative piece, it exudes a refined, subtly modernist aesthetic, ideal for a collector's home, a contemporary setting, or a space inspired by the great masters of 20th-century design. Electrical system fully refurbished.
