Description

Portrait of the Virgin praying (or gazing at the Infant Jesus) or of a holy woman with her hands clasped. The woman's face is filled with love, or at least great tenderness. Perhaps it was part of a larger composition (a Nativity scene?) and has been re-stretched onto an oval-shaped frame. This painting was cleaned by a Heritage-certified restorer; it was no longer legible, and the background remains very darkened, which lends the painting a beautiful sense of authenticity.
