Description

A charming, finely engraved English print from the second half of the 18th century: "Les Confidences"; comfortably seated in a drawing room, two lovely young women exchange a letter and engage in a heart-to-heart conversation; this remarkable intimate scene of the nobility has everything to captivate: a delightful subject and a beautiful, nearly square format; set in a green-and-gold lacquered molded frame and presented in a sepia-toned passe-partout with a gold border. The beautiful composition is captivating, and this work--signed in the lower left corner--embodies all the charm of the 18th century across the Channel... Customs very much like our own.... A labeled tag from the period (circa 1780) is attached to the back of the work.
