Description

These two small ottomans were once used to hold electric lights. The electrical wiring was removed at some point, and a socket is missing from the bottom of one of the brass lampshades... But they're just waiting to light up a table, console, or sideboard once again with candles! Glazed ceramic, in very good overall condition, an unusual piece. Unknown provenance, no markings; perhaps from East France, or Vallauris?... Height = 22 cm; Width = 17.5 cm; Depth = 9.2 cm Weight of both = 1.320 kg Careful shipping at additional cost.
