

"large Chiseled Moroccan Copper Tray"

120 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Description

"Large Moroccan tray": scalloped and chiseled copper, 50 cm in diameter and 3.2 cm deep. Marked "Fès" in Arabic and French and "MAROC"; some traces of a previous cleaning with a product that left a bit of verdigris in places. The richly detailed chiseled design features stylized flowers and foliage around the rim, arranged in 36 radiating registers emanating from a center with a domed navel, encircled by two friezes of stylized foliage and scrollwork. Morocco has a long tradition of copperwork, and the creations of its master chisellers rival those of goldsmiths in the quality of their craftsmanship; our tray, a prestigious piece, is a perfect example of this.
