Condition : Bon état

Material : Ceramic

Height : 32

Description

jug with polychrome floral decoration made of polychrome glazed ceramic, featuring a bulbous shape topped by a large ring-shaped handle and equipped with several spouts. The main side of the bulbous body is adorned with a large, hand-painted, stylized floral design, consisting of a central flower in shades of blue, yellow, and white, surrounded by lush green, red, and brown foliage outlined in black. The design stands out against a cream-colored glazed background enlivened by numerous blue, green, and orange speckles, which give the piece a particularly decorative character and a striking presence. The form, with its upper handle and various spouts, draws on the tradition of popular Mediterranean jugs and pitchers. An original decorative piece, equally interesting as part of a ceramics collection.
