Description

Polychrome blown-glass Venetian chandelier - Murano
Elegant six-light blown-glass chandelier, Venetian craftsmanship from Murano. The frame, crafted entirely from clear glass, features six sinuous, twisted arms, ending in flared cups with spiral decorations. These are accented along their edges with small turquoise-blue glass inlays. The highly decorative central stem is composed of twisted elements and embellished with polychrome glass flowers and foliage applied while hot, in shades of turquoise, cobalt blue, yellow, pink, and orange. Long leaves and flowers spring from the upper section, giving the entire piece a light and dynamic silhouette. Turquoise leaf-shaped pendants hang from the arms, complementing the rich floral decoration characteristic of Venetian chandeliers. Italian
