Description

Antique door with original jambs and hinges, finely decorated, of Neapolitan origin, dating from the 18th century (1700s). Crafted from solid wood, it features a refined sage green lacquer finish embellished with gilded floral motifs and scrollwork, typical of the Neapolitan decorative tradition of the time. The contoured door panels and carved reliefs lend elegance and great ornamental value, making this piece ideal both for a historic architectural setting and as a striking decorative element in a contemporary interior. An authentic period piece, with its original patina and signs of aging consistent with its age, attesting to its authenticity and historical charm. The height can be lowered by approximately 14 cm, if necessary, to adapt it to rooms with lower ceilings. Dimensions: With frame: H. 271 cm x W.
