Description

Louis XV Walnut Cabinet - 18th Century A very beautiful Louis XV walnut cabinet from the 18th century, featuring an elegant two-door front and exquisite proportions. The doors consist of large molded and scrolled panels, forming graceful curves and counter-curves characteristic of the Louis XV style. The sculpted scrollwork punctuating the moldings lends the piece great elegance. The front is adorned with long, antique cut-iron lock plates, which are particularly decorative. The lower section features a generously scrolled crossbar resting on equally ornate legs. A substantial molded cornice crowns the piece. The walnut has a beautiful, warm, and luminous patina, with panels displaying particularly attractive grain patterns. The interior offers ample storage space with several shelves. A
