Description

An elegant pair of Empire-style kerosene wall sconces in bronze and gilded brass, dating from the late 19th century. Beautiful decorative work featuring fluted reservoirs, shafts adorned with delicate floral friezes and rows of pearls, radiating wall rosettes, and small key-shaped side elements. Each sconce is topped with a slightly pinkish opaline glass shade, delicately adorned with an engraved and frosted floral design, as well as a clear glass burner. The set displays fine craftsmanship and antique gilding that has retained a pleasant patina. A third similar wall sconce, also complete and in perfect condition, will be included with the pair. Electrified and in working condition. Very good overall condition. Dimensions of one wall sconce: Height: 43 cm Width: 13 cm Depth: 19 cm. Period: late 19th
