Description

Gilded Wooden Sofa with Double Caning - Louis XVI Style - Circa 1900 A very elegant Louis XVI-style carved and gilded wooden sofa, dating from around 1900, featuring fine cabinetmaking and carving. This piece is particularly distinguished by its double caning across the entire backrest and sides, a meticulously crafted detail that lends it strength, refinement, and elegance. Only the seat is made of single caning, and this is entirely new. The dynamic, enveloping backrest features rich carved decoration. It is centered by an oval caned medallion, framed by panels adorned with motifs. The various sections are accentuated by friezes, foliage, rosettes, and floral motifs in the Louis XVI neoclassical style. The rounded armrests harmoniously extend the backrest and are, like it,
