Description

A fully original late 18th C. sideboard of lovely small proportions, made during the Dutch Louis XVI-period circa 1790-1800. It's constructed from solid Oak veneered with beautiful figured Satinwood and details of Purpleheart, African Padauk, Brazilian Tulipwood & Sycamore. Enriched with various refined inlaid bandings and marquetry of foliage scrolls, ribbons & swags detailed with so called penwork. As it has never been sanded the veneer still retains its handcut thickness and only has one small patch! Beside the stunning woodwork it's decorated with entirely black lacquered panels and ones depicting Shishi (lion dogs), flowers & plants. It comes with detailed gilded brass mounts and enamel backplates on the pulls of the dovetailed drawer. These are made in Battersea depicting landscapes,
