Description

Solid silver and vermeil chalice - A.E. Jones - Birmingham, 1940 English chalice made of 925/1000 sterling silver, crafted by silversmith Albert Edward Jones (A.E. Jones), a renowned figure in British silversmithing associated with the Arts & Crafts movement. Description The chalice features a simple and balanced design: a wide, flared bowl with a gold-plated (vermeil) interior, resting on a stem with a flattened knot and a wide, slightly domed circular base. A finely engraved cross on the base underscores its liturgical purpose. The reverse side of the base bears a series of perfectly legible British hallmarks: A.E.J.: master's mark of Albert Edward Jones Anchor: Birmingham Hallmark Office Passing lion: Sterling silver, 925/1000 fineness Letter-date: hallmark corresponding to
