Description

After Antoine-Louis Barye, a bronze edition cast with a bronze patina of the Hare with Ears Erect. Both the sculpture and the patina are in excellent condition; the signature "BARYE" is visible on the base (no foundry mark; likely cast in the early 20th century). Antoine-Louis Barye (1796-1875) was a French sculptor and painter, famous for his animal sculptures characterized by remarkable realism and expressiveness. He is considered one of the greatest masters of 19th-century animal sculpture.
